REMARKS.

It is the design of this Institution to furnish instruction in all the branches of an English and Classical education. Lads are received into the Preparatory Department at any stage of advancement, where they are thoroughly instructed in the common English branches. The very general deficiency which exists in our systems of elementary education renders a school of this nature an invaluable auxiliary to one of a higher character. Without a correct knowledge of the studies which it embraces, the pupil is not prepared to enter upon a more advanced course of either English or Classical education.

THE HIGHER ENGLISH COURSE is designed for the benefit of those whose age, means, or plans for life may render a regular Collegiate education impracticable. The student is permitted to pursue any of the studies he may choose, independent of the dead languages.

Lectures are delivered on the Natural Sciences, accompanied with experiments.

CLASSICAL DEPARTMENT.

The course of study in this department is as thorough and complete as that pursued in any other Institution. The text-books used are of the most approved character. During the past year, there have been two regular College Classes—Freshman and Sophomore. At the commencement of the ensuing session a Junior Class will be organized.

THEOLOGICAL DEPARTMENT.

The students of the Theological Department will be directed in such a course of English, Classical and Theological studies, as the age, circumstances, and acquirements of each may demand. As this must be much varied to apply to individual cases, no particular course of study, nor set of text-books is presented in this Catalogue. But as the leading object of such Students is the preaching of the Gospel, so their studies will be directed in such a way as to give them a correct knowledge of Truth, unbiassed by human authority, and ability to communicate the same with clearness, facility and force.

TERMS--EXAMINATIONS.

THE Academic year commences on the first Monday in October, and consists of one session of ten months; which is divided into two terms of five months each. There is but one vacation, (except a week during Christmas holy-days,) which embraces the months of August and September. In consequence of this arrangement, the pupils can be with their friends during the unhealthy season.

There are two Examinations a year; one previous to the Christmas recess, the other at the expiration of the session in July, when every Student is required to undergo a thorough examination on the studies of the preceding term, and perform such other exercises as the Faculty may assign.

EXPENSES.

The necessary expenses at this Institution are moderate. Exclusive of clothing, they need not exceed $200 per annum. But if the Student is allowed the free use of money, and is disposed to be extravagant, he may spend much more here as well as elsewhere, though it is believed that Marion presents fewer temptations to extravagance than any town in Alabama.

BUILDING, &c.

A large and commodious edifice has been erected, containing spacious public rooms (as Chapel, Laboratory, Recitation rooms, &c.) and a large number of Dormitories.

The Institution is also in possession of a valuable Apparatus, and a Library containing about 1000 volumes.

CONCLUSION.

THE HOWARD COLLEGIATE AND THEOLOGICAL INSTITUTION was established by the Baptist State Convention of Alabama, convened at Talladega, in 1841. In the Journal of that body is contained a Report of the committee on Education, setting forth "the expediency and importance of establishing and endowing a College or University of high order, and in connection therewith, a Theological Department."

On the 29th December of the same year, by the act of the Legislature, the Trustees were constituted a body corporate, by the name of "TRUSTEES OF HOWARD COLLEGE," with "full power and authority to have and use a common seal—to receive donations and purchase property, both real and personal, in value not exceeding two hundred thousand dollars—to confer such degrees in the arts and sciences as are usually conferred in other Colleges and Universities in the United States—to give diplomas or certificates thereof," &c., embracing all the privileges and immunities of other bodies of a similar character.

The Institution went into operation on the first of January, 1842, and has been steadily advancing in numbers and character to the present time. A Theological Professorship has been endowed, and several promising young men are now pursuing studies with reference to the ministry. Some progress has been made in the endowment of a Professorship in the Literary Department, but the monetary embarrassments of the community, together with the exertions required to erect the new building, have caused the Board to suspend this undertaking for the present. It is their intention to resume it as soon as practicable. In the mean time every effort will be made to increase the facilities for imparting knowledge, and to make the Institution what its founders designed it should be—"A Collegiate and Theological Institution."
